Channing Tate is a 18 year old high school senior who arrives with his family at UofSC to tour the school.

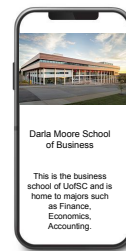

By:Rowan Hiner

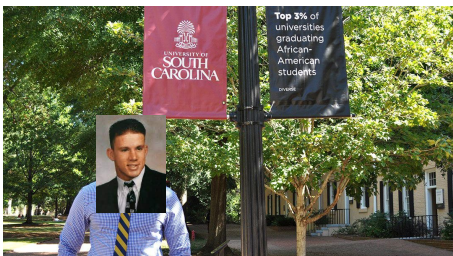

While taking the tour Channing wants to get extra information of the buildings and where his classes may be if he decides to go to UofSC. But his tour guide isn't very helpful.

He asks someone on the tour and they say that UofSC offers an app that will give more information on what he's asking it's called Campus Navigator.

When Channing opens the app he can see all of the buildings on campus and a description of why they are there.

Channing feels more comfortable about what he's looking at as well as where he is on campus.

Channing feels his touring experience has been improved by having Campus Navigator helping him and is now strongly considering enrolling in UofSC
